

Safety Video Quiz Premier Electrical Staffing, LLC

1. Employees with a safety attitude have the right attitude. True or False
2. Employer safety programs should provide for frequent and regular inspections of the job sites, materials and equipment. True or False
3. Any employee can operate equipment and machinery at the worksite if they have some idea of how it works. True or False
4. Guardrails, covers, personal fall arrest systems and safety ropes are all types of fall protection. True or False
5. Rerouting or properly covering exposed cables/cords that cross pathways is one way to prevent slips, trips and falls. True or False
6. Employees must always wear hard hats to protect themselves from falling objects. True or False
7. Fall protection is required any time you use a ladder. True or False
8. When lifting heavy objects it is always a good idea to get help or use special equipment. True or False
9. Employees should always assume that all overhead power lines are energized. True or False
10. MSDSs are required for most chemicals used at the worksite and should be kept locked up in the supervisor's office for safety. True or False
11. Trenches and excavations must be inspected daily for evidence of possible cave-ins, hazardous atmospheres, failure of protective systems, or other unsafe conditions. True or False
12. Guardrails should be installed along all open sides and ends of platforms. True or False
13. Power tools must be fitted with guards and safety switches. True or False
14. Fatal electrocution is the only real risk when working near overhead power lines. True or False
15. Ladders with structural defects can be used if the employee thinks it is still safe. True or False
16. Employees should never enter into a confined or enclosed space unless properly trained and instructed by their employer. True or False
17. PPE must fit properly, be worn properly and be maintained properly to be effective. True or False
18. Smoking is prohibited at most construction sites or is permitted in designated areas only. True or False
19. You should know the locations of all first aid kits and who is certified in first-aid at the worksite. True or False
20. Employees should take personal responsibility for their safety, their co-workers and others on the jobsite. True or False

Premier Electrical Staffing, LLC
Safety Orientation Quiz 2015

Name of Employee: _____

Date: _____